

CAROLINA WILDLIFE
CONSERVATION CENTER

Wildlife Rehabilitation Internship

The Carolina Wildlife Conservation Center (CWCC) is a nonprofit wildlife rescue located in Iron Station, NC, caring for almost 2000 native mammals and reptiles annually. The CWCC provides internship opportunities for dedicated individuals looking to get hands-on experience caring for these animals.

Learning Opportunities Include: Native wildlife identification, species-specific handling techniques, husbandry of native wildlife, rehabilitation of injured & orphaned wildlife, knowledge of wildlife diseases, educating the public on wildlife issues and opportunities to work with a wildlife veterinarian (varies with schedule).

Intern Expectations & Responsibilities: Must be rabies vaccinated. We are one of the leading centers for the intake of rabies vector species (Fox, Raccoons, bats, skunks and bobcats) in NC. Being rabies vaccinated ensures our team to be safe when working with these species. Must be able to commit to the full internship dates. Must be professional, punctual, a quick-learner, dedicated to our mission. This work is physically demanding & fast paced. Must have the ability to learn quickly, follow directions easily, take initiative, be respectful, responsible and work outdoors in all weather conditions.

Areas of responsibility include but are not limited to:

- Feeding & handling native mammals and reptiles
- Cleaning and maintaining cages for a wide variety of animals
- Maintaining care and cleaning of the center
- Preparing diets for all species in care
- Communicating all patient issues or concerns to center staff
- Assisting staff with wildlife rescues & releases
- Assisting with hotline calls
- Intake of animals from the general public drop off
- Creating enrichment for the animals in care
